It is Jinjin's birthday. Her aunt gives her a doll as a birthday present.

Jinjin shows the doll to Lanlan.
“Look,” she says, “her eyes move.”

When Fangfang presses the doll's belly, she cries.

“Let’s all play with her,” says Lanlan.

Holding the doll in her arms,
Jinjin won't let Fangfang or Lanlan play with the doll.

Lanlan wants a doll with eyes that move too.

Lanlan wants to swap her truck for Jinjin's doll.

But Jinjin doesn't like the idea.

“Let’s play with the truck,”
says Fangfang to Lanlan.

Jinjin goes home

Jinjin closes the door and puts the doll to bed.

“Let’s go and see if the doll wants a ride in our truck,” Lanlan says to Fangfang.

They go to Jinjin's home.
But she won't open the door for them.

They have to go away.

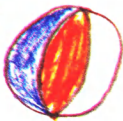

The doll is so upset about what Jinjin has done that she closes her eyes and ignores her.

Jinjin realizes that she has done wrong, so she takes the doll and goes to play with Fangfang and Lanlan.

Happily they play together. The doll begins to move her eyes again and seems very pleased.
